Executive Director Corner: Marcus Meneese

My son asked me, "Why do you do things for others?" I said to him, "Son, I am serving another of God's image-bearers." I show him that service is an important part of life by exemplifying it in my life. Our words can never speak more loudly than our actions.

The amazing thing about serving others and giving is that it positively affects the giver. You can't give to others without also reaping benefits yourself. When you see yourself as a servant leader, you will never lack an audience to help.

Always remember that wherever you are in life, there is always someone you can help in some way. When you look for ways to help others, like Dr. King and Rosa Parks and several others.

you'll find that you are constantly blessed with things.

Take a moment and think about what you can do each day to be a servant to others. Before you begin each day, ask yourself, "How will I serve another today?"
